BLUE AND GRAY JOIN ON MANASSAS FIELD

Veterans of Both Armies Atten-Ceremonies in Connection With Unveiling Tablet.

MANASSAS, Sept. 30 .- With red and yellow autumn leaves falling upon them like a divine benediction, a group of white-haired veterans in blue and gray unveiled today a bronze tablet.

Assistant Secretary of War Breckinricge was present, representing President Wilson, who was unable to sttend. and Gov. Henry C. Stuart of Virginia was represented by Judge J. B. T. Thornton. Commissioner of Immigraton Caminetti accompanied Mr. Breckinridge from Washington, as did Congressman C. C. Carlin.

The unveiling ceremonies took place on the courthouse square in the town, which is six miles from the battlefield. The tablet has been fixed in a large stone flanked on each side by a "Napoleon twelve-pounder" that saw serv-62, and by an old anchor donated by the Navy Department. It has been erected by the veterans of both armies in commemoration of the reunion of the blue and the gray on the Manasses battlefield in 1911, an occasion characterized as "the birth of the re-United States."

LONDON, Sept. 30 .- London is drawing nearer with each fresh charge of British troops against the German works in northern France. The successes scored by the allies in their great offensive increases, rather than diminishes, the possibility of compulsory service. Something must be done to replace the men who are dying or going out of action in what may prove to be the greatest battle of the Lord Kitchener, it was learned today, put the situation frankly before a conference of labor union officials in an address on Tuesday. The British army, the war lord said, is now of the required size, but the most serious prob-iem is the keeping up of a sufficient supply of trained men to replace the human wastage in the fighting in France end at the Dardanelles. He said he preferred the voluntary system of obtaining armies, but he told the labor officials with the utmost frankness that the present recruiting is wholly inadequate to fill the gaps that will be made in the British armies. Lord Kitchener said that he did not want to press compulsory service ex-cept as a last resort. His personal plan, he said, was to divide the country into districts, and to call upon each dis-trict for a specified number of men. If he quota was not forthcoming by voluntary enlistment, he said, the govern-ment should then resort to the draft among men eligible for military service long the same plan used in the United tates during the civil war, Kitchener's speech made a deep impression on the union heads. As a result, it was anounced today, the laborites will conduct vigorously a campaign of their own to obtain recruits among the workers, instead of merely assisting n other recruiting campaigns. This, seemingly, is the feeling every-where in government circles. If conwhere in government circles. If con-scription is found necessary, it is now likely that it will be reached by grad-ual stages, calculated not to antagonize the public, and profiting by the wave of patriotism that has swept the country since the reports of British successes in France and Flanders.

The war office today sent the follow-ing telegrams to all recruiting stations: "Falling off in receiving of recruits re-

PUBLISHERS' PAPERS ORDERED RETURNED

Court Rules U. S. Attorney May Seize Evidence Needed, But Not By Force.

The right of the United States District Attorney to seize papers desired as evidence before the grand jury of the District was established today in an opinion handed down by Justice McCoy in the Marks-Goldsmith Company case. While the court ordered the return of the papers seized by the officers from the music publishing house, he held that the subpoens duces tecum was suf-ficiently legal to operate. The point on which he ordered the return of the paper was that it was not clearly shown by the District Attorney that Gladys y the District Attorney that Gladys Graves, clerk in the Marks-Goldsmith office, voluntarily permitted the seizure. The opinion establishes the right of the District Attorney to subpoena papers for presentation to the grand pury when no resistance is offered. The concention of the attorneys for the music publishers was that the papers in the case were seized "by force," immediately following the arrest of Merton M. Marks and Harry B. Goldsmith on the charge of violating the postal regulations, and while the office of the men was temporarily in charge of Miss Graves. Marks and Goldsmith waived their Two. Boys in Hospital

The feat of yesterday in wireless teleshony will soon be surpassed, Captain Bullard, chief of the navy's radio service, predicted today. "The apparatus used is still in its infancy. The actual mechanics are still being kept a secret," he said.

The machine at the Arlington radio station is technically an automatic transmitter. It is a large, complicated mass of electric coils and wire, but according to Captain Bullard, constitutes a simple electrical principle. It is the work of many wireless and wire experts of the Government and private concerns. The machine was connected with local and New York telephone wires on one side, and with the Arlington radio sending aerials on the other. A common telephone transmiter and line was used, the automatic machine successfully transmitting the human voice to
